Champion Quality

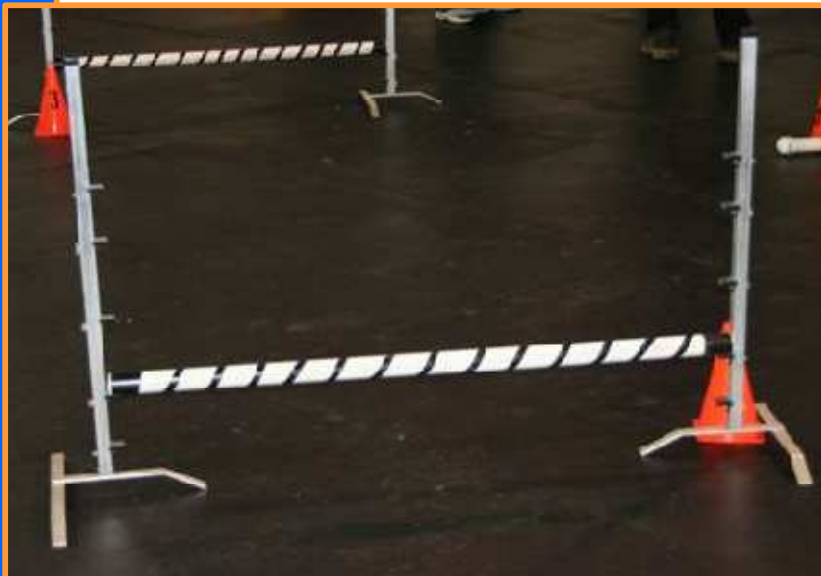

Champion Agility strives to produce dog agility sports equipment to the highest possible quality. We develop our equipment with the handler in mind. Our equipment is light weight, made of strong and durable aluminum and is easy to assemble. As all of our equipment is delivered unassembled, shipping costs are minimized; all equipment can be shipped using standard carriers such as UPS, FedEx and Canada Post.

All equipment comes with easy to follow instructions and the parts and fittings necessary to have your equipment assembled in hours or sometimes even minutes. All of our equipment is designed with little or no welding. It assembles using bolts, nuts, screws, cross dowels and other fittings – just like IKEA. This lowers our production costs and therefore we can pass the savings on to you. In most cases our equipment costs the same or lower than other producers' steel unpainted (or non-powder coated) equipment except our equipment is made of high quality, high strength aluminum which requires no painting. Despite the economical cost, all of our equipment is high quality and competition ready. It is made of metal, but economical enough for your back yard.

Warranty

All of our equipment is backed by a warranty. Warranty information can be found on our website at www.championagility.com
